

Please do not implement regulations that would serve to lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law. During the past five months that I have been on the Attorney General's "do not call" list, I have been spared what used to be a 4-6 calls per day assault from telemarketers for everything from credit cards to cemetery plots. I have enjoyed not being interrupted at home, and I hope this will continue.